About Raindance

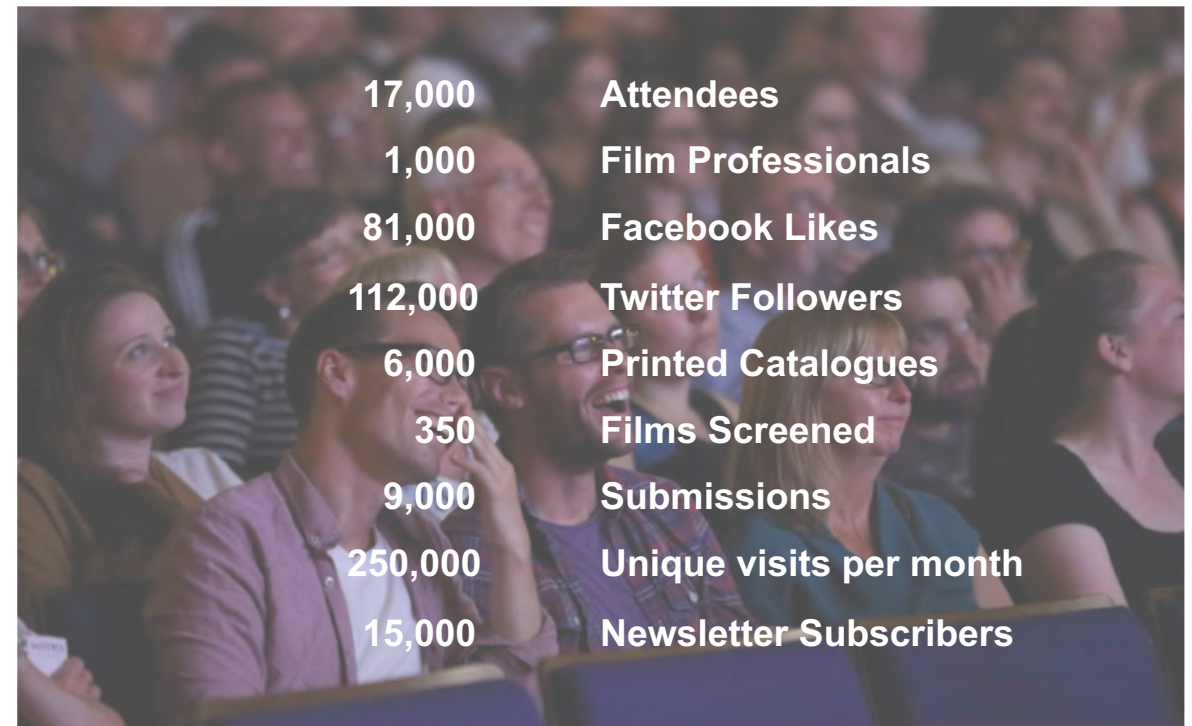

Raindance Film Festival is the UK's leading independent film festival attracting thousands of indie film lovers, filmmakers, media and industry professionals into London since 1993. Raindance identifies new emerging talent in the British and international film industries.

Raindance is the only major film festival offering higher education. We offer short evening courses, masterclasses, BTEC Certificates, and MA in Filmmaking.

Visitors' Profile

Raindance welcomes over 17,000 industry and general visitors, a cross section of vibrant, well-educated, motivated and influential opinion-formers in London.

VAT will be added to all the listed rates.

Email Marketing

The Raindance newsletter offers year round content for film professionals. Blog articles, festival news, promotions, film tips and information about industry and special events targeted to our vast number of readers.
